Dyslexia is estimated to affect around 10% of the population, occurs in people of all races, backgrounds and abilities and varies from one person to another.

While people with dyslexia often struggle with analysing information, literacy, numeracy, organisational skills and time management, they also have many strengths such as creativity, intuition, problem solving and 'big picture' vision.

Dyslexia continues to be misunderstood in the workplace and Union Learning Reps can help by negotiating small changes which can make a real difference.

Waltham Forest Dyslexia Association provides a screening service for children and adults. For adults who think they might be dyslexic this may be the first step to identifying problems they have experienced throughout their lives.

To arrange a screening contact Debbie Marshall on 078522 32509 or email Debbie.m@wfda.org.uk. There is a small charge for the service.
