

Higher learning courses online

Anglia Ruskin University is a leading provider of work based learning in higher education. A large proportion of our students are in work, either full time or part time. Our programmes are especially designed to meet the needs of the learner in the workplace. There is a very high element of applied or operational knowledge in our courses which means that students can not just earn whilst they learn but also add value to their work and to their employer as they study for an award with us.

We are pleased to have been selected as one of unionlearn's education partners of choice. Our range of qualifications will enable unionlearn members to update and upgrade their specific business skills that are relevant to their job roles, career aspirations, and organisational needs.

No matter where you reside or work in the UK, and whatever your work or education background, there will be a work-based course that will suit you with Anglia Ruskin University.

Our work based students come from a variety of sectors - banking and financial services, automotives, public sector and local authorities, armed forces, retail and manufacturing to name a few.

Many of our courses are online, which means you can study at a time that suits you. Some have the opportunity to attend workshops on one of our campuses, so you can enjoy the "on-campus" experience and network with peers on the same course.

Our special relationship with unionlearn means we are able to offer discounted fees to unionlearn members. You'll find details of each of our courses and the corresponding fees by clicking on the links (website address at the bottom of the page)

In addition, if you apply for a place on one of our courses by April 30th 2012, you will receive an Amazon Kindle as a special gift from Anglia Ruskin University when you commence your first week as a student with us. Please remember to provide the required confirmation of your TUC membership and quote HUNLNS0212 when you apply. Terms and Conditions Apply.
